

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR INAUGURATION

Various Committee Chairmen
Report Preparations Are Complete.

HAVE NO FEAR OF HITCH

Robert N. Harper Formally
Thanked By Co-Workers
for His Efforts.

Everything is set for the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson for a second term as President of the United States. This was the report made by the various committee chairmen at the final anti-inauguration meeting of the general anti-inauguration committee at the New Willard today.

At the conclusion of the meeting Col. Robert N. Harper, chairman of the general committee, announced that the work of the sub-committees had been completed except for a few minor details and that the situation presented not the slightest hitch in the arrangements.

Colonel Harper Thanked.

Robert E. Mattingly, chairman of the District Committee, introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the General Inauguration Committee, appointed and organized to provide for the inauguration ceremonies attendant upon the induction into the office of President of the United States of America of the Hon. Woodrow Wilson for a second term of four years from March 4, 1917, to March 4, 1921, in recognition of his deepest appreciation of and tenderest thanks to Chairman Robert N. Harper for the ability, impartiality, modesty and courtesy with which he has presided over the deliberations of the Inauguration Committee, and likewise, we hereby express our highest regard for the unflinching zeal and fidelity to duty of our genial secretary, Alvin G. Belt, in the laborious and responsible post he has filled.

"No mistake was made in the selection of these gentlemen for the onerous duties they have so capably performed, and we bespeak for them and for their co-workers who have so loyally co-operated with them, not only the most beneficent weather conditions at the hands of the officials dealing therewith, but the most successful, brilliant, and patriotic display and demonstration on the part of the citizens of the Capital of the Nation and of the Nation itself in inaugurating the President and Vice President of our great country—may he ever be right, but, right or wrong, our country."

Workers Get Holiday.

President Wilson has issued the following proclamation:

In pursuance of the act of Congress approved June 18, 1898, making inauguration day a legal holiday within the District of Columbia, it is hereby ordered that all persons employed by the Federal service employed in the District of Columbia be excused from work on Monday, March 5, 1917.

Provided, however, that this order shall not apply to persons in the office of the Government or to any of the clerks or other employees thereof that may for special public reasons be excepted therefrom by the head of the department having supervision or control of such bureau or office or where the same would be inconsistent with the provisions of existing law.

WOODROW WILSON.

The White House.

Colonel Harper urges that every citizen of the District display a flag on Inauguration Day. He suggests that both business places and residences be decorated with the national colors, and that vehicles also be bedecked with flags.

At a meeting of the Wilson and Marshall Democratic Association of the District at the New Ebbitt House last night arrangements for the parade were completed. The organization will head the parade section. Charles J. Darr, president of the association, will be in charge, and Maurice J. Connor will be marshal.

Utah Woman Determined.

Mrs. R. E. L. Collier, of Salt Lake City, chairman of the Woman's Democratic State committee of Utah, has arrived in Washington. She says she will march alone in the parade if there are no other representatives of her State on hand.

Extra precautions to protect patrons of the road have been taken by the Pennsylvania railroad. Many extra policemen have been provided, among the number being six stalwart men from the Central division of the system who are stationed at the Union Station.

Order of Civic Division.

Official announcement of the arrangement of the civic division of the inaugural parade was made today by George L. Linkins, chairman of the committee on civic organizations, Mr.

CADETS WON'T BE HUNGRY

High School Boys Will Be Fed on Inauguration Day.

The inaugural visitor unwilling to leave his vantage point on the day of the parade to get food, may well be envious of the Washington High School Cadet Corps.

Plans are being completed which provide all cadets with lunch at a nominal cost, the lunch to be served either at the mobilization point or en route. There will be no fancy dishes. The cadets will line up each with a nickel or a dime or an amount sufficient to cover the purchase of enough plain food to allay their hunger.

It is planned to use a school building near the assembly point for the distribution of food, but if this is impracticable, a wagon will follow the boys wherever they might be camped.

'ANTIS' READY FOR INAUGURAL GUESTS

Opponents of Suffrage Open
Tea Room on Pennsylvania Avenue.

The proponents of woman suffrage will steal no march on the Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage on March 4, for the latter organization has stepped in in advance and made tangible preparations for the entertainment of its supporters during the coming week.

Under the leadership of the prominent "antis" a tea and a room has been opened at a strategic point, where the guests from other States will be served coffee, tea, and sandwiches.

Wage Earners Will Help.

When formally opened this morning, the tea room, at 1213 Pennsylvania avenue, presented a pleasant and comfortable appearance. The exterior is decorated in rose, black and white, the organization's colors, and the interior is decorated with trellised roses and greens and palms and Southern smilax. State pennants for the twenty-five anti-suffrage State organizations are hung about the walls, and on the front door is a large poster chart showing the actual strength by population of the suffrage States as compared with the States where the women have no vote.

The tea room service during the inaugural period will be furnished by wage-earning girls of Washington, who will offer their services gratis. The building permits of a reception lobby where literature will be distributed and anti-suffrage roses sold. A rest room and an elevated tea room where guests can partake of lunch and look down upon the other guests.

Leader for Each Day.

Each day the tea room will be in charge of a different leader assisted by a corps of "anti" attendants. Among the ladies who assisted in the preparation of the room were Mrs. Edward Gheen, Mrs. C. H. Davis, Mrs. Thomas T. Goff, Mrs. Augustus P. Gardner, Mrs. Arthur W. Dunn, Mrs. Joseph M. Stoddard, Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Mrs. Francis Nash, Mrs. Huston Thompson, Mrs. George B. Puller, Miss Anne Squier, and Miss Murray Ledyard.

WOMAN SHOTS IN COURT

"That Man Broke Up My Home,"

She Cries Out.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Mary Gugliucci, twenty-six years old, caused a panic in the superior court house, when she walked to the front of Judge Barrow's room and shot Emergo Soriero in the leg. She was held in $1,000 bail.

Judge Barrow had just declared a recess and was leaving the court room, where the trial of a civil action begun by John W. Gugliucci, husband of the woman, against the man who was shot, had been heard. Mrs. Gugliucci was sitting two rows behind Soriero and walked deliberately to a point where she could face him before firing. She was seized by deputy sheriffs, and she shouted, "That man broke up my home."

Gugliucci declared that Soriero had been attentive to his wife, and neglected her and consequently aroused her fury.

TO REPORT ON EXPOSITION.

Plans for the establishment in Washington of a permanent States' exposition building will be completed at a meeting of representatives of States' societies in the board room of the District building Friday night. Reports of the attendance of governors and representatives of various organizations expected will be submitted by William McK. Clayton, chairman of the exposition committee of the Federation of Citizens' Associations, and Nathan B. Williams, chairman of the joint committee of State Societies. Invitations have been sent to more than 1,000 trade bodies. The conference will be held at the Powhatan Hotel March 6.

SCOUTS MEET TONIGHT.

Seventy-five scout masters, representing 2,000 Boy Scouts of Washington, will meet tonight at the Board of Trade room at the Star building to receive final instructions and assignments for the inaugural parade. A. C. Moses, president of the local council, says it will be possible to assemble 3,000 Boy Scouts at any given point within an hour should any emergency arise. The scouts have offered their services to the police for duty Sunday.

STAR BREAKS WRIST.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Louise Dresser stumbled and fell last night as she started a song in the first act of "Have a Heart," at the Liberty Theater. Billy B. Van helped her to her feet, and they started the song together.

Miss Dresser's voice faltered and she wavered as she stood. Once more she tried to continue the number, while the audience applauded her effort. She was unsuccessful and was assisted from the stage.

A physician summoned from the audience found her wrist was broken. An understudy finished the performance.

POSTOFFICE TO AID

Substations to Be Established in Information Booths.

Postmaster Chance announced today that he will establish temporary substations in the information booths for inauguration.

Besides the selling of stamps, stationery, postcards, etc., postoffice employees will be in attendance to assist in giving information.

The stations, with signs to indicate them, will be at the Peace Monument, Four-and-a-half street, Seventh street, and at Fifteenth street and New York avenue.

COURTESY URGED TO INAUGURAL VISITORS

Washington Railway and Electric Company Issues Instructions to Employees.

Attention extraordinary will be accorded patrons of the Washington Railway and Electric Company during the inaugural period if instructions given to conductors and motormen are heeded, the aim of the officials being to show every possible courtesy to visitors.

"It should be the duty of every citizen of Washington to welcome its guests and take care of them as comfortably as possible," says a bulletin issued by the company to its employees. "Conductors and motormen can do their share by answering inquiries correctly and courteously."

The employees are directed to be "careful of our guests, of their lives and limbs." Orders are given not to start a car until the steps are clear and to warn passengers not to step off before the car stops.

"Don't take any chances," says the bulletin.

Conductors will call out street intersections and transfer junctions in addition to the principal hotels and places of interest and amusement. This is an innovation in street car service in Washington and is intended to aid visitors who otherwise would become confused in the crowds.

Warns Against Pickpockets.

A warning against pickpockets is also given in the bulletin.

"Look out for your cash," is one mandate given.

"Remember that it costs money to run cars and that we must have a return," is another.

Besides the written instructions additional verbal suggestions have been given to the carmen.

WILSON ELECTION COSTLY

Expenses Totaled $2,500,000, With $800,000 Deficit.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—It cost nearly $2,500,000 to re-elect President Wilson, according to a statement issued from Democratic national headquarters, making the campaign one of the most expensive in the political history of the country. The deficit incurred by the Democrats was almost $800,000, instead of $300,000, as was announced soon after the election.

Of the deficit $450,000 already has been paid by contributions obtained by the 9,000 local finance committees established throughout the country by Wilbur T. Marsh, treasurer of the national committee during the campaign.

National Democratic headquarters will be moved to Washington next week, and W. D. Jameson, assistant treasurer, and W. R. Hollister, assistant secretary, will be in charge.

PULLMAN TO HAVE BIG INAUGURAL HELP

Detectives From Many Large Cities Will Watch for Cranks.

A force of approximately 2,500 men, including plain clothes men from every large city in the country, and operators of the United States Secret Service and Department of Justice, will be on duty in Washington during the inauguration ceremonies next Monday, Major Pullman estimated today.

The major will have 700 members of the regular force, 100 additional privates if a bill now pending in Congress passes this week, 600 special policemen, 600 members of the public order committee, 100 picked patrolmen of the Baltimore police force, detectives from the various cities, and Federal officers.

Big Secret Service Force.

It is understood that in view of the tension in international affairs, the Department of Justice, and the Secret Service heads are planning to have the biggest part of their forces in the Capital on Monday as a precaution against cranks.

"We expect a detail of plain clothes men from practically every city of any size as far west as Omaha, Neb., and north to Boston," said Major Pullman today.

The major is withholding the strength of this detective squad, for the purpose of keeping the cranks who are expected to come here from other cities guessing.

The squad of 100 from Baltimore, who performed valuable service during the Grand Army parade a little over a year ago, will arrive on Sunday morning. They will do duty on Sunday afternoon and evening as well as on Inauguration Day.

Plans for having plain clothes men patrol the residential sections in automobiles on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday were completed at the final meeting of the subcommittee on automobiles of the public order committee, at the District building last night.

Loading Regulations.

Major Pullman today again called to the attention of all persons who contemplate taking in roppers during the inauguration the following section of the inaugural laws:

"All persons who rent or let out rooms, excepting owners of hotels of twenty rooms or more keeping name registers, shall keep a record showing the signature (written in ink) and address of each and every person temporarily residing in the building in which they may rent rooms. Easements or alterations on this list shall not be permitted or be made for any purpose, and the names and addresses shall be retained and be opened for the inspection of the police or any proper officer at any time."

WILEY TALKS OF WAR.

Dr. Harvey Wiley spoke to the Fairbrother Mothers' Club at the Ryland M. E. Church last night on the part American men and women would play in the world war were the United States to become involved in the conflict.

"If we come into this year, you women cannot skulk, but must serve, and take your places on the battlefield and in the hospitals," he said. "You must be fit for that service."

ORLEANS SAW NO U-BOAT

Big Welcome for American Skipper and Crew at Bordeaux.

BORDEAUX, Feb. 28.—Bad weather, not German submarines, was the only thing that impeded the voyage of the American steamship Orleans, said Allen W. Tucker, her captain, on her arrival here this morning. The Orleans first anchored last evening off Pauillac, where she was visited by newspaper correspondents.

Captain Tucker appeared very tired from the constant strain of his last forty-eight hours on the bridge. He volunteered no information, but said unhesitatingly that he had not caught sight of a single submarine during the entire voyage.

Captain Tucker said that the only untoward incident of the voyage was the wrecking of the cabin of Second Officer Evans by a huge wave. The Orleans sighted two fishing vessels and two freighters when nearing the danger zone. The first intimation that he had passed the "blockaded area" came when it was signaled by a French torpedo boat which ran up a huge banner inscribed with the word "Welcome" when she had learned the identity of the Orleans. The Orleans proceeded up the Gironde river after an examination of its papers by the authorities early this morning.

When the skipper went ashore he was received with loud cheers by a big crowd. Speeches of welcome were made by the mayor, by local civic authorities and by a special representative of the American embassy and other Americans. The crew also was cordially received.

SHORT SKIRTS BARRED

Newark School Authorities Also Protest Against Powder.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 28.—Public school authorities here have started a movement to have the high school girls and even the women teachers in both the high and elementary schools change their style of dress.

David A. McIntyre, a member of the board of education, protested against short skirts and low neck and transparent waists now worn by both pupils and teachers. He said the custom was a shame and urged that the board take action to abolish present day dress fads. City Superintendent Poland was directed to request the principals and teachers to co-operate with the board in the movement.

Mr. McIntyre further complained over the way the schoolgirls and teachers daubed their faces with powder. Referring to the pupils on this he said:

"Many of the girls are trying to conceal the bloom of their youth by covering their faces with powder. If I were a principal or a teacher in a school I would ask such a girl to wash her face. This is a question of considerable importance. The fault may lie with the parents, and then again it may not, but I am convinced action should be taken."
